Owen from Aces Pest Control, came to sort out a rat infestation at a small rental cottage. We were unaware it was infested until we moved in and it was difficult to treat, due to the nature of how the house had been built and it appeared they had been there for a while.

Owen was friendly and reliable and sorted the issue out in one visit with recommendations to control any future infestations.

He was knowledgeable and professional regarding the nature of rats and how to best eradicate them.

I would recommend Owen to anyone for professional pest control.

His prompt and efficient service was much appreciated.
